

Personal Information Collection Notice

By completing this form you are providing personal information to The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals; New South Wales ACN 000 001 641 ABN 87 000 001 641 (RSPCA NSW, we, us, or our).

We are committed to handling your personal information in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).

Why is my personal information being collected?

Your personal information is being collected so that we can provide you with information about animals currently available for adoption through RSPCA NSW. We may also use your personal information for other purposes such as:

- to market our organisation, products and services to you
- to send news, information about our activities and general promotional material which we believe may be useful to you
- to keep you informed of donation appeals, other fundraising, events and memberships
- education, advocacy and providing information about existing and new campaigns
- quality control and research purposes e.g. asking you to participate in a survey about your involvement with us
- to provide the best possible quality of supporter and client service
- to update our records and keep your contact details up to date
- to provide insights to our organisation on potential adopters
- to provide information to third parties as authorised or required by law

Without your personal information we may not be able to process your application or request, or provide you with some or all of the services of RSPCA NSW as a not-for-profit animal welfare organisation.

Your personal information will be held by RSPCA NSW.

To whom will my personal information be disclosed?

We may disclose your personal information to:

- third parties who assist us in supplying our goods, services and programs or who perform functions on our behalf, including:
 - our employees, contractors and/or service providers for the purposes of operation of our supporter and customer services, and to otherwise provide information, products and services to you including, without limitation, web hosting providers, IT systems administrators, mailing houses, payment processors, data entry service providers, electronic network administrators
 - RSPCA-appointed marketers such as street and telephone marketers
 - suppliers and other third parties with whom we have commercial relationships, where this is necessary to provide you with a service or product
- other third parties where required by law
- anyone else to whom you authorise us to disclose it

Disclosure to overseas recipients

We use the services of certain third party service providers which may have offices or other operations outside of Australia. As a result, your personal information may be disclosed to overseas recipients. All service providers that have access to personal information held by us are required to keep the information confidential and not to make use of it for any purpose other than to provide services in accordance with their engagement.

Cookies, Google Analytics and Facebook Custom Audiences

We send cookies, or small pieces of information, to your web browser in order to collect information on your browsing session. Cookies may be used for:

- recording preferences that you specify on our website
- providing general visitor and customer analytics for internal reference
- assisting with website analysis and optimisation
- conducting research to improve our content, products and online services
- assisting with direct marketing
- supporting security measures, such as requiring you to re-login to the site after your account has been inactive for a period of time

If you do not wish to receive cookies you may disable these in your web browser, however please note that doing so may affect the site's ability to function properly. See the 'Help' section of your web browser for more information on changing your cookie preferences.

We use Google Analytics to track visits to our website, and use this information to track the effectiveness of our website, like visits, length of visit, viewed pages and the technical capabilities of our visitors. While this data is mostly anonymous, sometimes we will connect it to you, for instance in personalising a webpage, or prefilling a form with your details. For more information on our analytics tools, read Google's Privacy Policy.

We also use tools that tell us when a computer or device has visited or accessed our content, and allow us to tailor advertising both on our website and through advertising networks on other websites based on your visits or behaviour through cookies on your device. You can control how cookies are used and for what through the settings on your chosen browser. You can also control how your information is used with advertisers through the Network Advertising Initiative, including opting-out from interest-based advertising (click here).

If you wish to opt-out of having your web browsing information used for remarketing, traffic, demographics and interest reporting purposes, you can download and install Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on. Removing or rejecting cookies may affect the functionality of our website and updates to your web browser may affect the functionality of the Google Analytics Opt-out add-on.

We may use Facebook Custom Audiences to deliver advertisements to Website Visitors on Facebook based on information we already have such as email address. We also may use information associated with Visitor social media accounts, such as demographics and other information about an individual to improve our marketing efforts. Find out more about Facebook advertising here or learn more about how to opt out of Facebook Custom Audiences here.

Where can I find more information about your privacy policy?

We handle personal information in accordance with our privacy policy, available online here. Our privacy policy contains information about how you may access your personal information and seek correction of such information; as well as how to complain about a breach of the Australian Privacy Principles and how we will deal with your complaint.
